

BUFFALO STATE

The State University of New York

Funded Research Opportunities for Entrepreneurs engaged in Research & Innovation

Dr. James Mayrose, Ph.D.
Interim Provost and VP for Academic Affairs
Buffalo State College

Jack McGowan
Insyte Consulting

On June 20th, the Buffalo State Small Business Development Center hosted a 3-hour workshop on federal funding through the Small Business Innovative Research (SBIR) program. Dr. James Mayrose, SUNY Buffalo State Interim Provost and VP for Academic Affairs welcomed participants and discussed his experience as a recipient of several SBIR grants. Jack McGowan (Insyte Consulting) and Martin Casstevens (University at Buffalo) presented a comprehensive overview of the program including elements of a winning proposal and business/university collaboration opportunities. A second opportunity to learn more about SBIR funding is being offered on September 23rd at UB North Campus. For more information or to register for this no cost event, please call the Small Business Development Center at 716.878.4030 or email Dr. Susan McCartney at mccartsa@buffalostate.edu.

U.S. Small Business Administration